

Michigan Health Alert Network Migration Important Dates

Michigan Health Alert Network Migration

Tuesday, October 29, 2024

The process begins in the morning and the old site is live until the moment the new site goes live (typically much later in the day). Changes in the existing MIHAN system are not recorded the day of migration, but you should expect no downtime in the sites availability. Everything is locked in the moment before the migration starts. Generally speaking, you will not see the new site until much later in the migration day.
